Caroline Preece

We should make informed photographic decisions and not worry about rules and whether to break them. Caroline talks about photography as a visual language - how to communicate our personal take on the world. She explains the psychology of people's visual interpretation, and the impact of compositional choices on how the viewer experiences the image.

This talk takes place online using the Zoom app. The login code will be emailed to members. Visitors are welcome and entry is free (voluntary donations are welcome). Please request the Zoom code by visiting www.hdcc.org.uk/syllabus
